

Health, Safety and Environmental management systems are now mainstays of the contemporary business agenda. The need for systematic processes to ensure risks are appropriately managed and operational processes controlled has never been greater.

At KASA Consulting, we understand the complex and varied challenges that organisations face in addressing expectations of corporate accountability and evolving regulations. Our experienced consultants can provide a thorough and comprehensive range of services to create structured management systems that conform to international Standards.

KASA Consulting personnel have demonstrated experience across all stages of the business improvement cycle, from initial planning and design of management systems through to implementation, review and optimisation.

Whether you are just starting out or already have a functioning management system, by understanding your organisation's aims, objectives and practices, we can tailor your business systems to ensure maximum effectiveness. This enables you to avoid the unnecessary complexity or the paperwork burden often associated with ISO based system implementation.

Our professional range of services encompasses all aspects of environmental, quality, occupational health and safety and integrated management system design, implementation and maintenance.

Initial Reviews and Gap Analysis

For companies without, or with limited management systems in place, the gap analysis process examines existing internal processes and provides a report detailing what your organisation needs to do to fulfil the requirements of ISO 14001, ISO 9001 or OHSAS 18001/AS 4801.

Management System Optimisation

This service benefits those looking to improve an existing system by streamlining processes, optimising resources and integrating compatible processes.

Risk Identification and Assessment

Development and documentation of risk management processes and procedures. Facilitation of HSE risk workshops, assistance with the identification and assessment of HSE risks and preparation of HSE risk registers.

Documentation

Preparation and review of business documentation; including policies, procedures, manuals, work instructions, management plans and training materials.

Performance Evaluation

Development of performance evaluation systems; including environmental, OHS and quality improvement objectives, targets and management programs.

Assurance and Audit

The KASA Consulting audit team can assist you in all elements of management system and compliance auditing.

Our consultants hold RABQSA certifications for environmental, OHS and quality management systems at the Lead Auditor and Principal Auditor grades.

Our broad client base and wealth of industry experience uniquely positions our consultants to provide your business with independent assurance and audit services.

We can provide additional benefit by identifying opportunities to improve performance and streamlining processes.

Our capability to undertake fully integrated audits against ISO14001, ISO18001/AS4801 and ISO9001 with multidisciplinary auditors ensures that costs and interruption to your company's operations during the audit process are minimised.
